Record enrolment as school opens, Only one hour on student's first day

Last Tuesday morning every youngster from five to 14 went off to public school for the opening day of fall term. Scrubbed, brushed, polished, uncomfortable in new pants and sweaters, many went for the first time. The newcomers were lined up with their parents inside the schools to meet teachers and learn the way to rooms. The hardened classroom veterans, a much happier and noisier crowd, waited on the school steps for the bell.

At the King George school, teachers sat down at their desks with their coats on, took the June sheet off calendars and wished that the kids would heat up. From 8.45 until long after 9, Mrs. Caswell, the kindergarten teacher, listened to anxious mothers' requests, recorded names and ages and promised parents that, "Yes, I'll see that Mary keeps her sweater on, . . . o, we don't let them sit in class with their rubbers on." One mother was overheard saying,

"Well, he's really a very bright boy. Why he can count to seven already, but he forgets 3 and 5."

At 9 o'clock, the principal went to the boys' door and rang the bell for classes. With a rush and scramble, the "vets" ran in. "I wanna back seat—don't shove—look that's where I sat last year—let's see if we can get seats together."

When the rush was over, one boy of nine was left on the stairs struggling with his little brother of five. "He has to go to kindergarten, and he won't let go of my hand," he said. Painlessly, a teacher parted the two, and an unhappy little brother was taken to his teacher.

The teachers who had been serving as traffic officers in the 9 o'clock rush hour, turned their attention to the 30 odd youngsters who stood along the wall waiting to be sorted. "Just be quiet until Mrs. Styke gets a list of the ones she wants," another teacher explained. In another corner of the hall, a teacher told the children to be quiet, and she would tell them where to go.

Most of the new pupils had been registered, and with a list of books and equipment in their hands, went back home with their parents. The sorting of grade one and two pupils was completed by 9.15, and the school was organized for the term. One new pupil, however, was forgotten.

In the open doorway a black and white dog, "Mitzie", stood waiting to register. He was shoed away once or twice, but he was determined. The pup's young master went to send him home.

Little more than an hour after the first school bell of the year, all pupils had returned home. "This afternoon is more holiday," a teacher said, "Except, of course, for us." She added, "Tomorrow's the big day here. Classes have to start, and mothers can't stay then."

Prince Charles has latest features

Sharp at nine o'clock Tuesday morning one mother and her child reported to the new but unfinished Prince Charles public school to register for the fall term. After workmen had explained the situation to the mother she said, "This means that to school on his first day, but the trip up here was worth it. This school is thrilling just to look at."

Many others will feel the same way when they visit Newmarket's new school for the first time. The restful colors, clean lines, and functional design of the building assure future students of greater opportunities. The development of good habits, healthy working conditions and safety in play have all been considered by the designers.

All classrooms have sound-board ceilings and inlaid linoleum floors. Soft green, coated glass blackboards have been installed in all rooms and large cork-board bulletin boards will permit visual aid displays. "Convectors" radiators heat all rooms, but radiant, below-the-floor, heating is used in the hallways. Each classroom has its own drinking fountain and sink, supply cupboards and bookshelf. The roof is designed so that there are windows on either side of each room. In each, windows take up half of the outside wall and another set of smaller windows floods light from above, like a skylight.

There are two doors to each room, one to the outside and the other to the corridor. This provides the maximum in fire protection for the youngsters. The clothes closets, built into the walls of the rooms, have electric drying fans for wet weather and have adequate space for all of the children's snowsuits and goggles.

The kindergarten room has an inlaid linoleum floor with a large brightly colored alphabet design in the centre. In the bay window of the room, the floor is laid out in a numbers pattern. Many extra cupboards have been built into the kindergarten for toys and equipment.

The senior room will also be used for the auditorium. The stage can be cut off from the room with sliding sections and be used for staff meetings or a teachers' lunch room. A kitchenette adjoins the stage.

The school is complete with a nurse's office and library. A loudspeaker is in each room, and music, announcements or radio programs can be piped in to classrooms.

This week the workmen have been tearing down the last of the old army barracks on the property. As soon as the debris is cleared away bulldozers will move in to landscape the play area in front of the school.

The large playing field behind the school building will not be ready for use this fall. When completed it will be for rugby and baseball. The men at the school are working as fast as they can without trading care for speed. It is hoped that in two weeks the school will open for classes.

BUILDING TRADE

Davis Leather Co. American subsidiary Shows promise

The Davis Leather Company opened its offices on Park Ave., New York city, on May 15 and has now completed three trial months. It has established an American subsidiary there called Davis Leather Inc., in an effort to build trade with the United States.

Davis Leather Inc. will not be a producing subsidiary, but rather a selling operation, keeping in direct contact with present customers and building new ones. "We want to keep our finger on the pulse of American business," A. N. Belugin said yesterday.

Due to adverse trade conditions throughout much of the normal world trading area, Davis Leather has found business almost restricted to North America. It is for this reason that it is now concentrating its efforts on U.S.A. and Canadian business.

The leather demand is strong at present and all tanneries are working at full tilt. Maximum output is required now although Davis Leather experienced a drop in sales and production during the first four months of the year.

CONVERSION TO CONTINUE UNTIL SEPT. 18

First deliveries of 60-cycle power are now being made to some 1,600 customers of all classes in the town of Newmarket, marking the commencement of Hydro's frequency standardization program. Work is expected to continue until September 18.

During that time, Hydro Chairman Robert H. Saunders said 1,400 domestic, 220 commercial and 40 industrial customers will have their frequency sensitive 25-cycle equipment altered for operation on 60-cycle power. The total load in Newmarket is approximately 2,500 kilowatts.

There will be a total of eight "cuts", the customers being divided into groups according to the various feeder lines which supply their electric service. Special surveys of these facilities conducted previously by Hydro crews have enabled Commission engineers to determine the most suitable groupings ahead of time.

The Hydro chairman advised that someone be home on the "cut-over" day to admit the changeover crews. If the technicians find that there is no one to admit them to the premises, the customer's service must be disconnected. Mr. Saunders stated. This measure is essential to protect the 25-cycle frequency sensitive electrical appliances in the house from damage on the new 60-cycle current.

TAKE TENNIS SEMIS

Mount Albert only put up a token resistance when it visited here last week in an endeavor to halt Newmarket Tennis club forces in the semi-finals of the North York Tennis League. Newmarket winning all but one match in the eight played to advance into the finals with Aurora for the league championship.

DRIVER DEAD, EIGHT INJURED AFTER CRASH

One man died and eight persons were injured this week following an accident at the north end of the Holland Landing hill. The accident happened at 8.30 a.m., Monday morning when a north and a southbound car met head-on in the east lane of the highway.

Mr. Thomas Morris, 42, of Peel St., Penetanguishene, driver of the Toronto bound car, received chest and internal injuries and died in York County hospital Tuesday night. Mrs. Elsie Morris, the driver's wife had both her legs broken in the accident and of the two passengers, Mr. Robert Crippen had a broken wrist and ankle. Mrs. Crippen suffered cuts to the face.

John Severn, 42, Fallsview Ave., Toronto, driver of the northbound auto, was badly cut about the face and hands. His daughter, Audrey, 12, had her jaw fractured, and was removed to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto, for treatment. Mrs. Gladys Severn received injuries wrist and ankle, and Mrs. Crippen suffered cuts to the face.

Mr. Severn had picked up Troopers James Knight and L. P. Dodd, R.C.A.C., at the Newmarket stoplight. "We're lucky to get a ride with you," one of them said as they got into the car. "I'm glad you can take us to Barrie, because we're due back at Borden pretty soon". Neither of the soldiers was seriously injured in the accident, and they were permitted to return to Borden as soon as police had investigated.

John Severn had bought his car on Saturday and he was taking his wife and daughter to a cabin up north. "I'll never find another car like that one," he said, "A 1947, in perfect condition and it only had 30,000 miles on it". The Severn car was completely destroyed.

Schomberg worker Unhurt in No. 27 Construction accident

Dangerous Cemetery Hill, on No. 27 highway came close to adding another name to its list of victims last Tuesday when Ronald Comer, 18, of Baldwin found himself going over an embankment with his 60-ton earth mover. Ronald is employed by the Beamish Construction Company, and is working on the road improvements at Cemetery Hill.

The earth mover is being used in construction work to make the road safer. While Comer was driving it, it slipped over a 25-foot earth embankment, rolled, and landed upside down. Ronald was thrown clear of the machine and escaped injury.

Cemetery Hill has been known as a dangerous piece of highway for years, and has claimed several lives in traffic accidents. The hazard will be removed after current construction is complete.

37 in family meet At three generation Sanderson reunion

Thirty-seven sons and daughters, grandsons and granddaughters, even great grandsons and great granddaughters, gathered at the Sanderson family reunion last weekend. The family met at the home of great grandmother, Mrs. Annie Sanderson, Newmarket.

All members of the family attended the reunion, coming from as far as North Dakota and Michigan. Monday afternoon, dinner was served on the lawn of the Sanderson home, and Mrs. Sanderson was presented with a basket of gladoli by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gardner, Richmond Hill.

Fifteen grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren number in the family to date.

Horticultural Soc., Merchants Plan Larger Trade Fairs

Newmarket merchants who exhibited at the Trade Fair met Monday night to plan next year's fair. A committee was formed with Eugene McCaffrey as chairman to work with three members of the Horticultural Society on future trade fair plans. A motion was also passed that the Horticultural Society continue to sponsor the trade fair and flower show and that it be held for four days, Wednesday to Saturday.

Members of the new committee specially mentioned. General opinion seemed to indicate that no attempt would be made to form a board of trade. One merchant said that the formation of a board of trade would only fail like the ones in the past.

"The trouble with boards of trade in the past is that there were too many banquets and that's all," he said.

Chairman Eugene McCaffrey said that the recent trade fair has shown to many people good reasons for coming to Newmarket to buy. All exhibition space has been spoken for for next year's fair and several have already acquired definite space.

A suggestion was made that the committee could work together with merchants on other activities connected with Main St. trade. Merchants' closing hours and a Santa Claus parade were

Will stick to job, Fix sewers himself Says Aurora mayor

"I'm going to stick with it until this job is done. These people have been complaining for several years and nothing has been done about it. I intend to stick with the job if I have to do it myself," said Mayor Alex. Bell at Aurora town council meeting this week. He referred to the storm sewers on Harrison Ave. which have been backing up in cellars of six homes. "Leave it to the Mayor," said Reeve A. A. Cook, "He'll see it's done."

Mayor Bell reported on the condition of the storm sewers, which had been broken by tree roots and broken tiles. Digging by town workmen revealed the causes, Mayor Bell said.

"I am ashamed of our efforts," said Aurora councillor Don Glass, a member of the parks committee, during a discussion on the condition of local parks. Deputy-Reeve Harry Corner said the Councillor Victor Jones said it was a one man job to look after the grounds. Councillor Corbett agreed but said it was too late to do anything about the matter this year. Deputy-Reeve Harry Corner said he would strongly advise that next year's council appoint a parks foreman at the beginning of the season.

The discussion started when a letter was read from the Aurora Horticultural Society deploring the cutting of three-year-old trees, planted at the bowling green. The letter stated that the society was most anxious to cooperate with council in any plan for the beautification of Aurora. The clerk was instructed to write a letter to the society expressing regret regarding the incident.

Mr. Frank Underhill, representing the arena commission, requested assurance of financial backing from council for the alterations and increased seating in the rink. The work will be undertaken as soon as possible and completed before the hockey season. This was approved by council which decided to abide by the decision of the arena board in the letting of the contract.

The heating problem in the public library was discussed at great length. Councillor Victor Jones, chairman of the property committee, was instructed to get further information on a satisfactory solution. He was also instructed to see that the fire escape on the town hall is replaced at once. It was removed in the spring when construction started on the new Simpson office. Councillor Corbett expressed concern for the safety of children attending classes in the upper story.

Mayor Alex. Bell and Reeve A. A. Cook were authorized by council to make arrangements for a float representing Aurora cavalcade.

BROWNIES START IN OCT.

BOY CRUSHED UNDER SAND BY TRACTOR

Sunday morning of this week, Bobby Hanna, 4, of Oak Ridges was crushed and seriously injured beneath his father's tractor. Fast action of neighbors and a rush trip to a city hospital averted a tragedy, and his condition is reported to be fair.

Sunday morning Bobby had slipped out of the house and was playing behind the Village Bar, his father's place of business. He loaded a crank for his dad's tractor on his wagon and went to play on the tractor which was parked on a pile of loose sand fill.

Later, the lad's brother Jack, age 7, turned to see Bobby's hand protruding from a sand pile beneath the rear of the tractor. He ran to the house to his alarmed mother for help.

The tractor was still moving and Mrs. Hanna pulled the ignition wires from their connections. Neighbors had heard screams and came running with shovels. The lad was seriously injured and rescuers worked carefully but quickly to free him. The mother feared that the child was dead, but William Houting, Norm McKinley and C. M. Marshall could hear him gasp for breath as they freed his head from the sand.

C. M. Marshall helped dig the lad out and rushed him to Dr. Rose, Aurora. The doctor called for police escort and the doctor's son, Clayton drove behind the cruiser. Provincial Police Constable Clare St. John led them to the Sick Children's Hospital through Toronto's downtown traffic. Bobby Hanna was found to have a broken femur, crushed chest and possible concussion. His condition was later described as improving.

Mr. William Hanna, the boy's father, was away on a towing job when the accident happened. Later he said that young Bobby had been punished previously for trying to start the tractor. The child is fond of machines and had watched his father starting and driving the tractor many times. It is believed that the boy started the tractor from the front, using the crank, and that the machine moved forward knocking him over.

The Aurora United church junior choir, conducted by Iltyd Harris has been awarded $400 as winners of the junior choir class in a recent province-wide choral contest held at the C.N.E. Recordings of the chorus were heard in an elimination contest from which Aurora and a high school girls' glee club from Pembroke were chosen to compete in person at the C.N.E.

Newmarket is a jolly place to live for there's always something doing here. For instance, consider such things as the Lions two-day carnival a few weeks ago with a parade down Main St. to the park. The streets were lined with laughing citizens watching the mutt show and the parade of decorated bicycles and doll carriages.

It was amazing to see the unique ideas demonstrated by that parade. The children, and of course their parents no doubt co-operate in obtaining results, made a wonderful showing. Led by the citizens' band in its becoming scarlet uniforms, the dogs led off, then came the decorated doll carriages and bicycles, no two alike, except three small folk who each carried a cocker spaniel puppy in a six-quart basket, all gaily decorated in colored tissue paper.

To my mind one of the most delightful of all was the "imitation Lion" in a miniature lions cage - no other than that big beautiful tawny Persian cat belonging to Harriet Swindells, Niagara St. Poor Honey Bunch may not have enjoyed it as much as we did, being among all those dogs! Such an array of dogs and such fun to see them being judged! Big dogs, tiny dogs, thoroughbred dogs and just dogs.

Prizes were given for the biggest dog, the smallest dog, the one with the longest tail, the one with the shortest tail and the best dressed dog. There was an enclosure fenced round a stage and I was close to the fence but leaving to go and try to see the judging of the decorated bicycles and doll carriages I lost my place so missed seeing their tricks and from the shouts of delighted laughter that must have been heaps of joy.

And you have to hand it to the dogs; they really seemed to enjoy it. Maybe they thought of the treat awaiting them afterwards.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

The York Rangers gained fame in World War I. In 1915 they supplied one company for the 35th battalion and also one for the 83rd battalion. In November of this year the York Rangers raised a complete battalion, the 127th. The recruiting covered York county completely.

The battalion proceeded to France, where due to the special engineering and technical qualifications of its personnel, it was placed on special duty with front line railways and became the second battalion, Canadian Railway Troops. This battalion distinguished itself on numerous occasions and many honors were awarded to its personnel.

The York Rangers also raised a complete battalion, the 220th, which also proceeded overseas, but due to heavy casualties in the Canadian corps, it was broken up in England and the personnel used as reinforcements for units in France.

Up to December 2, $2,525 had been paid to needy dependents by the special committee on relief of York county soldiers. The committee discovered that the fund could be used to great advantage by paying monthly grants to dependents while their pension from the dominion government was pending.

During the winter of 1917-18, the 12th York battalion of infantry moved south of Lens in the coal district of France, and there held the line for a time.

In March, it was moved to the south of Arras with other units and there aided the halting and throwing back of the Germans in their last and greatest offensive.

At the beginning of August, 1918, it took part in the great second battle of The Somme, and at the end of the month, was again in a major engagement, the second battle of Arras, and broke through the Hindenburg Line at Vise-en-Artois, the defensive system the enemy thought

I could go on and tell you plenty of how Newmarket entertains her citizens but you all know and can read it in this paper, for things are well publicized beforehand.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

One of the big attractions at the Canadian National Exhibition continues to be the way the visitors to the art gallery react to the exhibits. This year, there was the added feature of the interest in Cadmus' controversial "Sailors and Floosies". We spent an evening in the gallery and there was never less than 25 or 30 ardent lovers of art clustered about the picture.

The portrait of Mayor Hiram McCallum, which had been unfavorably compared to the aforementioned, was comparatively ignored. It was a good popular show, no doubt. There were old favorites and just enough of the extreme to give the radicals (the word is used advisedly) their money's worth. But at the outset of this piece, which is becoming an annual affair with us, let it be stated we know nothing whatever about art and so can write with an unprejudiced pen.

The paintings were hung, we were told by the catalogue, according to subject. In the first room were paintings of life in the country (Fred Haines had a painting of three Holsteins who looked quite like Holsteins); in the second room were paintings of children and there was a lovely oil "My Son" by Lillias Newton. In fact, this room was the most pleasant of the five. "Lady Jean" by George Bellows, "Jane in the Bath" by Pegi MacLeod, The Dancing Doll by Paul Peel, "Pigtails" by Eugene Speicher were all lovely in their way.

The middle room was devoted to life in the city and it was there that the "Sailors" and "Mayor McCallum" were hung. There was a wide choice of subject. "Compartment C, Car 293" was a striking study in greens and blues by Edward Hopper. Henry Koerner's "The Pigeons" was quickly recognized.

The fourth room had pictures of recreation and to our mind, the outstanding one was George Bellows' "Forty-Two Kids", a swimming scene. "Woman on Trapeze" by Karl Zerbe, "Handball" and "World's Greatest Comics" by Ben Shahn were good. In the fifth room, there were paintings of ships and the sea. There was quite a lot of contrast here between calendar art and, for the lack of a better word, thinking art. There were old favorites of rock and water, a few wartime paintings and a few moderns, notably "Atlantic" and "Toll of the Sea" by Henry Mattson.

To get back to the viewers: the most encouraging aspect of the show was the large attendance, and not by any means was it entirely attributable to the pre-opening controversy over the "Sailors". There were hundreds of people who simply wanted to see the paintings because they liked paintings. Some were earnest, some were casual in their appraisals; all were attracted by a desire to see the world through the eyes of a painter. There is no greater encouragement for Canadian art than these. But mingled with them were the inevitable slacks and sandals set with an aggressive insistence upon "art" with a capital "A" and who are so repulsive to the others. There were the know-it-alls who informed everyone in the gallery at the top of their lungs; there were those who went because it was "the right thing to do" (they also infest the symphony concerts); and there were the sensation seekers who wanted first-hand information so they could tell their canasta crowd at the first opportunity that they, too, had been there. There is no greater handicap to overcome for the seeker of pleasure at art galleries than these people who take their culture so determinedly.

From the Files of 25 and 50 Years Ago

SEPTEMBER 4, 1925

Newmarket high school opened on Tuesday morning with the largest attendance of its history on the opening day. There were 290 at the assembly. Mr. W. J. Patterson, chairman of the board, presided. Speeches were given by P. W. Pearson, Rev. A. J. Mann, Rev. L. P. Graham, Rev. Frank Brunton, Dr. Dil-lane, Schomberg, L. G. Jackson and the principal, Mr. Manning. It is expected there will be 312 students registered this year.

Miss Evelyn Dennis, Aurora, has passed her probation exams with honors and has been accepted at St. Andrew's hospital, Midland.

Lots of butter and eggs on the market last Saturday as well as vegetables, apples and potatoes. Tomatoes and green corn were plentiful. Butter was selling from 40 to 42 cents a lb., eggs 30 to 33 cents a doz., ripe tomatoes 35 cents a small basket. Potatoes were $1.15, $1.25 a bag or 25 cents a basket, green corn 15 cents a doz.

Miss Hannah J. Starr, Pine Orchard, has returned to Arnprior as a teacher in the high school and Miss Evelyn Starr has gone to teach at Simcoe where she has taught for the past two years.

Mr. Phil Hamilton and Mr. T. Blizard were guests at the General Motor banquet held at the King Edward hotel, Toronto, on Monday night following the motor show at the Exhibition.

On both Monday and Tuesday of last week it was 98 in the shade.

A lawn social under the auspices of the Anglican choir was held at the home of Mr. William Marchant, Schomberg, on Friday evening and was well attended. The proceeds amounted to over $50.

SEPTEMBER 7, 1900

The market showed many signs of increased activity last Saturday. Butter and eggs were plentiful but prices were inclined to rise. Butter was 19 to 22 cents a lb., eggs 12 cents a doz., dressed chickens 50 cents a pair. Pears were selling at 25 cents a basket, apples ten and 15 cents a basket, 75 cents a barrel, potatoes 15 cents a pk. or 50 cents a bus. Green corn was five cents a doz., and ripe tomatoes 20 cents a basket.

Mr. Walter Cain left last Saturday for Lindsay where he is to be principal of the separate school.

Mr. Robt. Helmer has bought out Kennedy's barber shop. Mr. Loss Kennedy is going to run the shop opened by his father in the city.

The Keswick Christian church garden party on Mr. Prosser's lawn was successful. The program was much enjoyed and included piano selections, Miss Dickson, Orillia, Miss Mabel Cane, Newmarket; solos, Miss Bessie Terry, Miss Annie Clark, Ravenshoe, Mr. Arthur Morton and Mr. Prosser; violin selections, Mr. Walker Holborn, Queensville; recitations, Mrs. Wm. Cowieson, Miss Blanche Morton and Miss Wilkie.

Newmarket high school was opened on Tuesday morning with an attendance of 61. The flag, presented by Dr. Wesley, was flying from the staff. Speeches were made by trustees Wesley, Morris and Jackson and Mr. J. D. McKay, ex-teacher and member of the public school board. It is expected the attendance will reach 80 this term.

Ensign and Mrs. W. H. Cock-erill, Orlean, N.Y., are visiting friends in town and Mr. Cock-erill's sister, Mrs. W. T. Webster, King.

The Editorials:

A memento from the past

Canada's awakening interest in her northern regions has encouraged several references to Sir John Franklin, the Arctic explorer, who died in his search for a "North-West Passage". The life of Sir John is of more than casual interest to North York since he stayed in Newmarket while travelling towards Fort Garry to begin a voyage into the northern wastes. The house in which he is said to have stayed still exists on Eagle St.

The files of The Era of August 20, 1869, tell of another aspect of his trip which will be fresh to most of our readers. It is referred to in an obituary notice of Mr. Eli Beeman, son of "Squire" Beeman who laid out Newmarket in 1804. Sir John was anxious to reach the mouth of the Nottawasaga River. According to The Era story, "Lake Simcoe was not then free from ice and it was thought almost impossible to reach the Nottawasaga River, there being no land road in those days to Barrie. Mr. Eli Beeman volunteered his services to 'put the party through' and Sir John thus speaks of the aid he gave—in a letter written to a friend in Newmarket and dated April 11, 1825):

"You will be glad to learn that we reached the river by nine o'clock this morning with all our stores. I feel much indebted to Mr. Beeman for his exertions. Without his aid and that of the men with him, we should have had to remain some days on the other side of the portage (Barrie), as the contractor had neither teams nor cart ready, the former were procured by Mr. Beeman from a farmer."

Supremacy of public interest

The legislation passed by parliament last week served its immediate purpose of restoring rail service. The bill provided for a period of bargaining between the disputants on the basis of settlement established by parliament, and if agreement could not then be reached, compulsory arbitration would then be imposed.

The bill establishes something of a precedent by insisting on agreement, either willingly or by compulsion. This insistence runs counter to the precedent and practice in industrial disputes. It is justified in this instance by the public interest. Canada simply cannot support a rail strike. No matter how urgent the issues between rail workers and rail management, recourse to strike action is too disruptive of the national economy to be permitted again.

The support of the public interest over private interest is a radical departure from usual labor legislation. It is recognition of a principle which has long needed definition. One would have wished, however, that the government had given more substance to this aspect of the strike settlement. But perhaps we expect too much. The bill was directed at rectifying an emergency situation. To have it as the foundation for the definition of where private interest ends and public interest begins would be asking a good deal in the short time at the government's disposal. Then too, the government may have thought that introducing compulsory arbitration was a big enough step to take at one time.

The need to establish some limit on the pursuit of private rights was unwittingly emphasized by the protests that greeted the introduction of the railway bill. There were threats of a general strike, charges that a police state was being established. Those who made the charges were not necessarily the most important men in the labor movement and there was no indication that they were supported by labor generally. But they were made and will be repeated.

The right to strike is not absolute. The public interest must always come before private interest. The railway strike may have been directed against the railways as far as the legal interpretation of it was concerned but it was the people of Canada who suffered. There have been, and will be repeated instances where labor-management disputes threaten the public welfare. There is no justification for this and that fact should be firmly established in law.

Is it the right answer

The Aurora high school area board is seeking approval from the area municipalities for the issuance of $600,000 in debentures for the construction of a new school. The Newmarket area board is waiting now for approval for the issuance of debentures on a new wing for the high school here. Last year, the Newmarket public school board built a new school building. The total cost of these projects exceeds three-quarters of a million dollars.

That is a large amount of money to spend in such a limited area as Newmarket and Aurora and their surrounding districts. There is cause for doubt when statistics show that each year, 100,000 students leave high school in Canada without completing their courses because they find no meaning in the course of studies open to them.

It was pointed out by department of education representatives during the formation of high school areas in this district that one of the most important accomplishments of the high school area was to provide a large enough school population to afford an all-round school, that is, a high school which offered academic, commercial and vocational courses. The new wing at Newmarket high school is intended to do just that. There are at present excellent commercial and academic courses, but there is no provision for the student who wants to mix carpentering with his Latin.

The argument in support of the three schools in one arises from the large number of pupils leaving high school. In straight academic courses, only one in ten pupils complete their final matriculation. A large percentage of the students who would otherwise leave can be kept in school by offering courses more in keeping with their aptitudes and abilities.

But is this the final answer? It is human nature to take the easiest way. Shop work, for example, does not require the mental discipline of a matriculation course. Children are sent to school to be taught to use their heads. Offering substitutes to the harder courses could be simply catering to the lazy pupil. The same pupil, forced to continue with the harder courses, could in time develop the mental discipline and capacity which would make him a most useful member of society.

Down on the farm

Many people when talking about the prosperity of our country think almost entirely in terms of industry or business. It does not occur to them that industry and business cannot be prosperous unless all the other parts of our economy, particularly the farmers, are doing equally well.

Recent statistics published by the Bank of Canada provide some very interesting figures in regard to the farm prices of agricultural products and farm operating and living costs.

On the basis that 1935-1939 equal 100, prices of agricultural products rose from a low of 88.0 in 1935 to 91.8 in 1939, and 238.6 in January of this year. In the same period, farm operating and living costs increased from 97.9 in 1935 to 99.5 in 1939, and 175.3 at the beginning of this year.

Prosperity among farmers is a vital element in the prosperity of Canada. Prosperous farmers are good customers of manufacturers and their continued purchases of manufacturers' products provide jobs for many thousands of urban workers. Similarly, manufacturers' purchases of farm products provide a great deal of purchasing power in a prosperous agricultural community.

Admittedly, farm prices are high now, but the urban industrial worker can hardly expect to maintain his present wage scale and deny his country counterpart a comparable return for a sunup to sundown effort.

Merchants' planning

Several merchants who exhibited at the Trade Fair have shown an interest in planning for the 1951 fair. A meeting was held last Monday night and a committee set up to work with the Horticultural Society in arranging for the next fair. It was agreed that the sponsorship should remain in the hands of the Horticultural Society and that the fair be held four days from Wednesday to Saturday.

The enthusiasm for the fair and the desire of the merchants to make it a bigger and better one next year has been followed by early action. There were even suggestions that the merchants' committee could do more than plan for the Trade Fair itself. Closing hours, a Santa Claus parade and other matters which are the concern of merchants were suggested as possible merchants' committee work.

It seems that the fear among the group which set up the committee was that it could develop into a board of trade. It is understandable why some prefer not to think of boards of trade in the past. They have been formed often and have died often. But the merchants have at last found a common ground in the Trade Fair and their enthusiasm and ability to work for it could be applied to many other aspects of activity on a board of trade or a chamber of commerce. The job can still be done without the names.

Your favorite cat correspondent has been attending the third and final week of the Cuttin Corners annual Gooseberry Festival and Horse Show.

The show is held on the main street of Cuttin Corners centering mainly around the pure foods building which in real life is Hank Shoulder's butcher shop and general store. In the pure foods building there have been many competitions in baking, pickles and canning by the local women of Cuttin Corners. Most of the prizes have been taken by Mrs. Cam Ferated, wife of the chairman of the Cuttin Corners annual Gooseberry Festival and Horse Show.

In one instance one of the judges, Col. Mulholland Rivers, had the shortsightedness to give first class in the pickle contest to a Miss Mary Wimple whereupon Mrs. Cam Ferated was seized by an intense desire to take up a rolling pin and drive the good Colonel from the confines of the pure food building (Hank Shoulder's store).

Included in the many features at the fair is the thrilling annual Cuttin Corners Daredevil Buggy Races at the race track. Race track is the main street and best seats are in the grandstand. The grandstand is the sloping verandah roof in front of the pure foods building. Bleachers are built upon it and the entrance is through Hank Shoulder's second floor bedroom window.

Winner last Tuesday of the Daredevil Buggy Races was Cal Umine who drove a pair of Dapple Potted half breed Percheron Greys. Tragedy unfortunately occurred when Harrington Harringbone, over on the fourth, tore off a front wheel on a lamp post, did an inverted spiral and crashed through the post office window. Fortunately he received no injuries.

The best attraction along the midway is Myrtle the Mermaid. Great crowds of people, especially the young bucks, stand and stare at the canvass paintings outside, before you pay a quarter. Imaginative pictures portray Myrtle the Mermaid looking beautiful as only Myrtle is beside a glimmering crystal jungle pool with palm trees swaying in the tropic breeze. It is a scene of beauty to be sure.

Inside, where the crowd fights for the front row beside the large horse trough, Myrtle sits gowned in a dressing robe beside the shimmering waters upon which float cigaret butts and bits of saw dust.

A man smoking a cigar who looks much like the manager says "O.K. Myrtle."

Myrtle says "O.K. Joe." Myrtle who is 40 if she is a day, gets into the horse trough and swims around. Nobody can swim like Myrtle and the crowd cheers. It's the way in which she swims. Occasionally she will slosh a little water toward some of the young bucks and they too cheer.

Finally Joe says, "O.K. Myrtle, that's enough."

"O.K. Joe." She gets out and the water line drops three inches.

The crowd files out, quiet.

News reports from Ottawa say that labor has asked the government to reimpose price controls. The reports say that officials were favorably impressed specially for agricultural products.

Labor's wage contracts are for periods of a year or more. When living prices go up, labor finds itself at a disadvantage. The movement to have price controls suggests that labor should have a set scale of wages and a set price for living.

We can see one point that has not been covered. Who is going to buy the product of labor? The farm people buy and consume around 65 percent of all goods and services produced. In every business contract, the buyer generally is the important party.

In 1939, at the beginning of world war two, industry did not take the cost of production plus five percent profit offered by the government. There was a "sit-down strike" until they got their price. Was the farmer offered cost of production plus five percent for profit? No, we had a ceiling price put on our goods and services. The price of our products was not allowed to find the world level. Now, we have another attempt to clamp the price controls on agricultural products.

In the last few days the increase in the prices of car and tractor tires has been from 20 to 105 percent. With the demands of railroad workers for increased pay, freight rates will be increased and farm costs will climb again.

We agree with labor that there is little use to raise wages if the cost of living rises too. To have price controls will mean that there will have to be cost of production plus a reasonable profit on all goods and services.

In 1939 we farmers found that to meet war conditions, we had to have an organization to assist in supplying food. That same organization is not going to be rushed into any foolish business as we were in 1939.

Today we have across Canada farm people who study and think in terms beyond the farm gate. When labor asks for controls the farm people agree. But to impose controls on agriculture and to let industry and labor wages run wild is just not going to happen.

Controls will do away with all speculation. Of all the evils of our free enterprise system, the worst is the right to buy goods and hold them off the market until a rise in price. Do away with speculation of all kinds, let the competitive system work.

At one time the retail merchant brought goods and could sell at a price that his trade demanded. Today we see less of the merchant's cost signs on goods and more straight cost prices. The same article is priced the same in all stores. There is a control price on many goods now. If a merchant tries to cut prices his supply is cut off. We have competitive selling in name only.

It is within the right of the farmer to demand the cost of production plus a fair profit. Will labor and industry be fair enough to consider the farmers' demands? In the past they have not, largely because the farm people have never stood up for their just rights. Our whole free enterprise system seems to be to get a little better of the deal.

We judge people by the money they are able to accumulate. We say "He is doing well, look at the money he is making."

Our free enterprise seems to get, not to give. The reason co-operatives and federations are not more popular is because you must give and not take. The two systems of doing business are far apart. We live and do business under a system that makes hard feelings between neighbors and friends. We wonder why nations rise up against each other. A co-operative system of giving, not taking, would lead the way to a permanent peace. Cheerio.

BACK TO SCHOOL

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Our Anniversary

There's a big day and a gala night coming up at CEDAR BEACH on SATURDAY, SEPT. 16. We celebrate our 20th anniversary that day and it means much more to us than just 20 years of being in the entertainment business.

It means 20 years of establishing a place on the north shore of Muskegon Lake where you can come to picnic, to swim, to dance—to have fun.

It means 20 years of building and in the process making lasting friends of two generations of wonderful people.

And so we are celebrating in a grand way with the 20th ANNIVERSARY FROLIC on the night of September 16. You can take your pick of old time or modern dancing to the melodies of Ben Walker and his 15-piece orchestra. For old time music Joe Simson will be on violin and Charles Coombs will call off.

There will be the regalia that makes a colorful anniversary, a grand march under gay streamers and balloons—favors for your favorite lady, spot dances and prizes including a special prize for the people who danced here when Cedar Beach began 20 years ago.

We think there will be quite a few special prizes for the young and not so young. This is your invitation. We'll be delighted to see you again.

Barbara Buys WHYS

MONTREAL—Lemon pie is not only extra-delicious, it's extra-easy to make when you make it with DURHAM CORN STARCH. For the makers of this favourite corn starch know that a handy to handle package helps make cooking a pleasure. So they've designed a package that's a pleasure to open! Just pinch the top and roll back—no fumbling with a knife or other sharp instrument to open it! Inside you'll find "Durham" carefully protected in a paper bag. Then, when you've finished using it, replace the lid and your corn starch will be protected completely from dust 'til the next time you use it. And, for the best lemon pie you've ever tasted, just follow the Ann Adams recipe on your Durham Corn Starch package!

"Come To The Fruit Celler and see the jams and jellies I put down this summer!" And when your guests exclaim over the tempting array, you'll feel puffed with pride. Here's a way you can be confident your jams and jellies will be as delicious to eat as they are to see. Make them with CERTO FRUIT PECTIN...catch the deep true flavor of the fruit at the peak of deliciousness. Certo supplies the pectin that many fully ripe fruits lack, making more flavorful jams or jellies—in 1/3 the time of the long boil method. The results are sure when you follow exactly the easy directions under the label of each Certo bottle. I find I get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit, too!

My This Is Good Coffee! What kind is it? The answer to this question is more often than not — RED ROSE COFFEE! I can recommend it to you, for never in several years of using it, have I had a coffee failure! Red Rose Coffee practically makes itself! Because it's quality coffee it's very difficult to spoil it, no matter how hurried you may be when you're making it! I like good coffee, and that's why Red Rose is my choice! And you'll find that the same Red Rose quality makes Red Rose Tea tops in taste, too! Because Red Rose Tea is good tea—it actually gives more cups to the pound—its flavor goes a long, long way!

PRODUCTS...Heinz Green of Tomato Soup...Heinz Tomato Juice...Heinz Ketchup and Heinz Chili Sauce! I'm busy "stocking up" on these famous four—for I count on them to live up to meals from this September to next! The soup—so delicious as a first course or in meat and vegetable dishes...the ketchup and chili sauce—to add flavor to main dishes. Pick the "pick" of the Heinz tomato crop from your grocer's shelves now!

New, while summer holiday memories are still fresh, is a good time to plan for your new year's vacation. And one of the best ways I know to do this is to open a "Sunshine Account" at the BANK OF MONTREAL. You'll be glad to see this special B of M Savings Account when holiday-time comes round again. No money worries to make vacation-time less carefree! So why not decide now how much vacation money you're going to need?...put one-twelfth of this sum each month into your B of M "Sunshine Account". And begin the good work next payday.

Don't You Find your young daughter always feels proud when she's helping prepare for guests. Here's a dish she can make all by herself. It's one of those delicious JELL-O desserts. Simply make up a shallow pan of Strawberry Jell-O. When firm, break into bits with a fork and mix with whipped cream. Pile in glasses lined with lady fingers. Of course, any one of Jell-O's seven sparkling "locked-in" flavours may be used—and enjoyed. I like to keep several packages of Jell-O Jellies in my hand for everyday and company dinners. Jell-O is a year 'round favourite.

their sons, Blain and Donald, have left for Timmins where they will reside. Mr. Topper is on the teaching staff of Timmins Collegiate where he has taught for the past two years. He also teaches classes in Timmins night school. The collegiate has a staff of 45 teachers. Prior to coming to Oak Ridges to live, Mr. Topper was in the teaching profession in Alberta, near Edmonton. He was a member of Oak Ridges school board and was in charge of Blain's store, Oak Ridges, while here. Blain will continue with fifth form work at Timmins.

The Topper residence has been rented to Mr. Louis Colombo for the winter season.

Mr. Percy Ash, Lake Wilcox, is in Lockwood clinic. He underwent a surgical operation.

Lions Resume Activity

Oak Ridges Lions club will meet on Thursday, Sept. 14, for a business session to arrange for fall activities. On September 28 the deputy district governor, Mr. Richard Edmunds, Richmond Hill, will speak to members.

Open Night for H. and S.

The first meeting in the fall term of Oak Ridges Home and School Association will be held on Monday evening at the school, Sept. 11. Open Night will be a get-acquainted evening, the details of which are being drawn up by the executive. This meeting is always one of interest to members and newcomers to the district. Mrs. Bob Woolley is president. With the departure of Mrs. J. B. Topper to Timmins, the office of first vice president of the association is likely to be filled in the near future.

The interior decoration of Oak Ridges school presented a cheerful appearance for teachers and students when classes resumed on Tuesday. The much needed piece of work has transformed the entire building as satisfying color schemes throughout complete an effective change.

There is a lively interest in the district as six members of Oak Ridges riding club compete at the C.N.E. this week. Trained by Miss Marilyn Hawman, the instructor, the young competitors took practice on the coliseum tan bark on Saturday and Sunday. Wednesday and Saturday, events come up to test their skill. Competing are Catharine Gunn, Shirley Ryman, Joan Pelouquin, Gail Woolnough, John Woolley and Anne Rowe.

Fifty Years of W.A. Celebrated

The 50th anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Anglican church held on Thursday, Aug. 31, was an impressive occasion when well over 125 joined to honor a society that has labored faithfully and long in the interests of the church and humanity. Many former members and those from associate auxiliaries of Aurora, King, Maple, Richmond Hill, Thornhill and Temperanceville United church group were there. A few of the original charter members of the organization were present, including Mrs. W. Capell, Mrs. Frank Legge, Mrs. Fletcher Thompson and others.

Mrs. Maurice Beynon, Temperanceville, the daughter-in-law of the late Mrs. W. T. Beynon, an original member, was in the chair as president of the auxiliary. Rev. D. F. C. Mitchell, the rector, welcomed the gathering. The worship service conducted by Mr. Mitchell, assisted by Rev. W. F. Wrixon, Richmond Hill, a former rector of St. John's, was held in the church which was beautifully decorated with white gladioli. Prayers of gratitude were offered for the blessings of the years and invocation for renewed blessings and strength for future years.

In the parish hall, a reception and afternoon tea was given, the scene of floral decorations and hospitality. Mrs. Arthur Sainbrook and Mrs. Frank Legge poured tea at a table adorned with bowls of gladioli, centred with the birthday cake which was artistically designed in blue and white, the auxiliary colors. Mrs. William Capell cut the cake and Mrs. Fletcher Thompson extinguished the light of the 50 blue candles. Both are charter members of the W.A.

The Years of Service

A brief historical sketch of the St. John's W.A. was outlined by Mrs. S. C. Snively, a life member. According to records of the church and of the W.A. Archivist the auxiliary was formed in May, 1900, one of the new branches of the diocese. The consistency of activity of the branch is noted in fulfillment of pledges by free will offerings and the dispatch of a missionary bale in each of the 50 years. The membership has remained from 18 to 20.

Organized by Mrs. Kirkby, wife of the rector at that time, the names of the founders are recorded as those of early families of the district including the Legges and Newburys. Mrs. Kirkby was the first president of St. John's W.A. Her executive was Mrs. Harry Legge, first vice pres, Miss Jennie Newbury, second vice president, Miss Emily Legge, corresponding secretary, Miss Annie Glass (later Mrs. A. B. Wells, King), recording secretary, and Mrs. Edgar Legge, dorcas secretary.

The W.A. for several years helped to support a small mission

Among Sullivan's collies at the C.N.E. Toronto Kennel club 41 show, Sullivan's Count of Vandorf won first in breed by exhibitors class. Sullivan Squire of Leighton won first in Canadian breed class also reserve winner Coronet Field Marshall won first in the open class, also winner in the best dog and best breed classes. Southdown Lucky May won first in Canadian breed class females, also the reserve winner. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White and family visited on Sunday. Mr. White's aunt, Mrs. Geo. White, Bowmanville. They also called on other relatives and later had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Morley in honor of Mr. John White who celebrated his 21st birthday.

Mr. Clifford Morton and son, Wesley, Queensville, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cooke and Donna were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Richardson and family.

Mr. Bill Kingdon found a puff ball measuring 43" in circumference. It surely would provide several good suppers.

Mrs. Clayton Pogue, Martha Ann and Carolyn spent a few days last week with Miss Ada Pogue at Lake Couchiching.

All the children are looking forward to being back at school. We are pleased to know that Mrs. Gould, Aurora, is staying on at the Vandorf school.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kingdon spent a few days with their daughter, Mrs. Arnold Gardhouse, and Mr. Gardhouse and family of Thistleton. They also visited Mrs. Henry Griffith.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Scott, Donna and Linda, Toronto, spent a few days with Mr. Bill Kingdon while his parents were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Cobert, Bradford, visited on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bilton, Toronto, spent the holiday weekend with Mrs. Bilton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Switzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sabin, King, and Mr. Robert Staley had Sunday tea with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baber and family.

Mr. Robert Staley visited a few days last week his sisters, Mrs. Robert Mannen and family and Miss Betty Staley, Copetown, also a brother, Lorne Staley, Brantford.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clayton, Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Preston and family of Brampton visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ransom and Jacqueline on Sunday.

Mr. Basil Baber spent a few days last week at Camp Keswick at Ferndale, Muskoka.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Switzer and family of Longlac have returned to their home after visiting with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Switzer.

PINE ORCHARD

School opened on Tuesday, Sept. 5, with Miss Betty Pegg as principal and Miss Millard, Weston, in the junior room.

at Oak Ridges sponsored by St. John's church. Yearly donations to the church wardens toward expenses have been maintained and valuable assistance toward the building of the parish hall and a new furnace for the church has been given.

Tremendous effort went into work during two world wars. The W.A. contributed sewing and knitting, raised funds and other needs for the Red Cross during both wars as well as work for the Patriotic League organized for 1914-1918.

"May I say to all our members of today, consider seriously the work accomplished in the past 50 years in spite of the difficulties of which we know nothing about," said Mrs. Snively. "Let us see to it that when the minutes of the next 50 years are read at the 100th anniversary we have an equally good, if not a better record."

The Busy Dizzy Dozen is a happy group of gals. Who's aim in life is helpfulness and glee!

When they're needed in the kitchen

Or in the concert hall

You can call the Dizzy Dozen. They will help you, one and all.

Some are slim and slender, Some are short and fat

Some are in their twenties

But we won't go into that!

So when in our beloved town A helping hand is needed

You'll find the Dizzy Dozen

To your side have speeded.

So in the future, so far, They really want to meet you

From the platform of the hall

They surely love to greet you.

If into this old world

With its burdens and its care,

With its death and taxes,

And its troubles everywhere;

If they can bring a smile to ease

The load that's on your heart,

Then the Busy Dizzy Dozen

Have surely done their part.

KETTLEBY

On Saturday, Sept. 2, a great many of our members were present at the wedding of Miss Ann Gritten, younger daughter of Mrs. H. Gritten to Mr. H. Funnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Funnell. The bride wore a lovely gown of white nylon sheer with a long net veil embroidered with white lace roses. She was attended by her sister, Marjory, who wore a pale green nylon dress. Both carried bouquets.

There were about 60 guests present, among them, the groom's grandmother from Toronto. It was also the birthday of the groom's mother.

Miss Mary Wassink sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because". The church was well decorated with gladioli, pink and white cosmos, and pink and white asters.

Rev. F. V. Abbott officiated. A reception was held afterwards at the home of Mrs. H. Gritten. We all wish the happy pair a long and happy life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McLaughlin and Donna, Lindsay, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. McLaughlin's father, Mr. J. W. McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hunter spent a pleasant three-day holiday last week visiting Muskoka, Algonquin Park and Haliburton on a motor trip with Mr. Hunter's brother who drove the car.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harmon were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Travis, Swansea, on Sunday, Sept. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Travis, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ledingham and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harmon for the holiday weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clawson and family were weekend guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Hunter. They returned to their home in London on Monday, taking their daughter Linda, who has been staying with her grandparents for the summer holidays.

The usual monthly meeting of

Mr. Melville Sisler, Los Angeles, Cal., and Mr. Elmer Sisler, Toronto, spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lockie.

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL SAVES NON-SWIMMING BOY FRIEND

96-pound Loretta Leger, of Cornwall, Ont., dives into canal to rescue drowning youth

1. A group of teen-agers had been seeking relief from the heat in a shallow part of the Cornwall Canal. Suddenly, after a bit of good-natured horseplay, Lucien Lavigne, 17, stumbled and fell into deep water off the canal coping. A non-swimmer, he immediately began to choke and splutter—and then disappeared beneath the surface! His girl friend went into action.

2. Pretty, blonde Loretta Leger dove into the canal and succeeded in getting a hold on the young man under water. But she was in for a struggle. The frantic victim, as so often happens, didn't cooperate. Grasping his rescuer by the hair, he thrashed about—making Loretta's task all the harder. Finally, however, she managed to bring him to the surface.

3. It was not easy for the 96-pound girl to get the youth—who weighed around 150 pounds—in to the canal bank. But she succeeded. He was grabbed by another non-swimmer on the bank and, after much pulling and pushing, was hauled up to safety. We are indeed proud to present THE DOW AWARD to this brave young Canadian girl.

SHOPPING WITH BETTY

Tartans are for men as well

By BETTY BRAMMER

For most of us vacations are over. For the young fry and 'teens it's back to school, in gay new clothes. Housewives, and business girls are getting their wardrobes in order before being caught up in the gay social whirl of fall. Tartans play an important part in all wardrobes, gentlemen included, be it smoking jacket or slacks. Velvet hats are definitely high style with head-hugging ones favored.

A wonderful travelling companion, a gift, perhaps, is a toothbrush and a generous tube of toothpaste in a plastic domed bag. It's by Elizabeth Arden and the paste is a luscious pink shade. Wee price—90 cents.

Something very different in material is nylon jersey. A dress at Eve's is made of it. It has a springy feel and is really quite fascinating. The dress we saw is bright red with black velvet Peter Pan collar and cuffs on the long sleeves. The cuffs are reminiscent of old time sleeve savers. The five buttons closing the front are shiny jet and the belt is self-covered. It's a dress for anyone who likes her clothes to have a "different" look.

Devonware brings charm and color into your home. Particularly winsome are the Dutch, Chinese and skiing figures. They are made in Canada and are hand painted in clear colors of burgundy, green, blue, yellow and black. In pairs or singles, they may be hung up or set on brackets. Some of the figures sit over a shelf and are very lifelike. In Newmarket Devonware may be purchased at the Marigold.

An extremely attractive head-hugging black hat we noticed in one of the shops had several tassels affixed on one side with pearl bead trim. A charming and good looking hat. The material, velvet, of course.

A casual dress, suitable for games, informal parties or just for work, is in a lovely shade of coral wool jersey. It is two-piece, the skirt fairly full with unpressed pleats. The blouse is the pullover type, with V-neck and collar. The sleeves are three-quarter with turnback cuff. The blouse may be worn outside, mid-dy effect, or tucked in with a good belt to give it added dash. A good buy for a girl on a budget, may be mixed and matched with other blouses, sweaters and skirts to give several different costumes.

A tip from Betty: After washing your sweater add a few drops of your favorite cologne to the last rinsing water.

W.M.S. TO MEET

The Evangeline Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of Trinity United church will meet next Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 8 p.m., in the school room. Mrs. S. Jefferson will continue the study of "Growing With The Years", and this is the first meeting of the fall season. All of the ladies are urged to attend to make plans for the coming year.

An Aurora Opinion

By DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

There is a certain amount of professional jealousy between the towns of Aurora, Richmond Hill and Newmarket, yet the problems of the three towns are comparable. Being so close together it would seem feasible that two of these problems could be worked out collectively to the benefit of all three town budgets.

For one thing, the old bugbear of garbage disposal came up in council Tuesday night with a reminder of the suggestion which had been brought before the members some time ago that the three towns go in together on the purchase and maintenance of an incinerator. The need for this unit is as inevitable as tomorrow. Dick Buchanan, under contract for the collection and disposal of garbage purchased a farm so that his men would have some place to dump their loads of refuse. In the winter haulage to this dump is a problem and in the spring there are days it is impossible to get over the country roads with the heavy loads. There are areas in town where garbage could be used for fill. We hardly have to use our imagination to picture what an uproar there would be from Aurora citizens if such a practice was carried on this winter.

The population of the three municipalities is going to increase in the future and certainly there will never be any less garbage than there is at present.

The other problem is the maintenance of roads. The price of a grader is prohibitive for one town to try and finance. It is difficult to rent one in the spring when every other town without this equipment is just as anxious as we are to get the roads leveled.

If the three towns owned a co-operative machine it would be available for the entire season. Aside from the initial payment, the cost of a man's wages and the fuel to operate the machine would soon be absorbed by the work accomplished by the rotation of the grader at regular intervals between towns. Newmarket streets are surfaced to a large extent but it will be years before paved roads run throughout all the new areas.

If only these two items were

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Hydro conversion is the topic of conversation at our house this week. Tuesday saw the appearance in our driveway of one of the red trucks which has become so familiar to Newmarket residents during the past few weeks. All around the sub-division could be seen familiar trucks and other groups of men were busy unloading the new motors and equipment at dozens of other homes.

We are still quite astounded at the ease with which the change-over was made. The efficient and courteous manner in which the work was completed speaks highly for the way in which the Hydro Commission operates.

As directed, we had the refrigerator defrosted the previous evening. The record player, blower unit, washing machine and other electrical equipment, which we consider in our present mechanized way of living as necessities, were prepared in readiness for their new lease on life.

To the senior man-of-the-house operation conversion was an absorbing affair. Like a small boy at the circus, he enjoyed every moment of the day. For the intermediate member it was difficult to decide which proved more exciting... the re-opening of school or the transfer from 25 to 60 cycle. However, when it worked out that he could take in both affairs as school only remained in session for part of the morning, he was quite satisfied with the world. The only member of the family who remained quite unperturbed about the entire proceedings was the junior member of the firm. (Or as father says in air force lingo, Mark 3.)

Through it all he showed his disinterest by sleeping contentedly in his small bassinet. No doubt the hydro men were relieved that he was not a year or so older for then they would have had but another helper.

Friday night will see the holding of the second annual corn roast and dance by the Sunnyhills sub-division association. Last year's affair was considered highly successful and the group is planning on a repeat performance; (music by Charlie VanZant and his orchestra), the booths have been erected for the refreshments and each member has been allocated his responsibilities for the evening. Even the small fry will be enlisted to help husk corn. An abundance of the latter commodity is assured.

In the event of rain (or judging from this week's weather we

We wish to thank our public

for the very gratifying volume of business they have enabled us to do on our new baby, the home-cured hams and bacons known under the brand name "Maple Sweet".

Our sales are tremendous and we are glad to be able to give you this new line especially with meat prices so high. Do you know that when you purchase one of our Maple Sweet picnic hams or smoked cottage rolls you save between 30 cents and 75 cents compared to other sources of a similar line? Our product will not have near as much cooking shrinkage as competitive lines, which is also a bigger saving for you. The reason for this is in our method of tenderizing. Our ovens are producing every day to give you a strictly fresh-cured product. The flavor is better because you get it fresher.

We guarantee satisfaction at all times on everything we sell. Our business has been in operation for six years and all very successful, thanks to our public.

Our many years of experience helps us serve you better.

Sees hockey picture shaping up

Intermediate B hockey and juvenile hockey appear to be definitely on the agenda for Aurora this winter. Two meetings that were disappointing by way of enthusiasm, numbers and definite declarations have been held. Except for declarations from Aurora Indians via the pen of president Bert Mayrand and franchise holder Harold Rogers and the juveniles via Andy Closs and Bert Tunney, there appears to be quite a bit of uncertainty and confusion.

The Indians functioned last winter and could round out a fairly strong squad without too much trouble. The O.H.A. ruling as to the meaning of the metropolitan area will have a hand in determining the exact possibilities. The juvenile entry is being backed by Jim Wilson, Aurora hardware merchant, and it of course will be a homebrew team in its entirety. Alf Cotey who is employed at Wilson's and has hockey experience with Waterloo Siskins, Kitchener, and Armored Corps will coach the entry and a fine team should result.

Despite the fact junior hockey has so far been given more or less a cold shoulder don't be surprised if some junior team of B calibre plays in the Aurora arena with several of the '50 Black Hawks in its line-up. We'll leave the Newmarket picture to comrade Haskett but elsewhere the picture seems to be as follows: Bradford is again concentrating on minor hockey with the strong possibility of a junior D entry. Bradford, if it can hold its younger players, is strong enough to go a long way. The intermediate picture is most confusing. Don Wilson, who came out of retirement last winter to help his hometown has definitely retired and that goes for Charlie Nesbitt who commuted from Toronto last winter. 'Goldilocks' actually retired from hockey prior to the war, returned to action with Newmarket camp, played brilliantly there and with Markham Millionaires.

Mutt Collings, who has been the sparkplug of the Bradford team since its revival, has purchased a home in Penetang and will definitely be up north this coming winter. He'll be a welcome addition to either Penetang or Midland. Mac Phillips, the husky winger who while of juvenile age held his own in intermediate company, reports to the Springfield training camp at Niagara Falls on September 16 and he's not expected back in Celerytown. Will probably be with Lindsay juniors. The coterie of players left may round out a rural hockey entry.

Stouffville: We reported to you the activities that have already occurred and the latest report is that the Bangay clan will be grouped with Milton, Georgetown, Weston, Acton, etc., in senior B. There is no truth to the rumor that Nick Bangay will stay in the east. Sir Nicholas will report once more to the Pacific Coast league.

Markham: A corn roast for the '50 Millionaires' was held last week at Carl Sellars' farm. Quite a do, much fun, but little definite about hockey. District arenas putting the pressure on the boys to stick together so they can themselves a melon as well as fill arena coffers. You'll have to be patient on this one. There's a good chance that a homebrew intermediate club known as Unionville will provide the area with hockey and allow those who wish to do so to play with Stouffville.

Sutton: Definitely back in intermediate B, but several of the older ones said to be retiring. Bruce McMillan, last year with Aurora Hawks, is returning to the team. Junior D shows up and strong minor hockey entries as well. Woodbridge: Moving up to senior B and grouped with Stouffville, Milton, Georgetown, etc., Charlie Rowntree in charge. Fat James, currently playing lacrosse with Weston, is likely to join the team. Blake Eatough, Calhoun Smith, Dillon and company, ex-Weston juniors, likely to join the club. Eatough was with Brampton last winter; the other trio will be remembered for the Aurora episode when the O.H.A. went berserk and awarded them to Brampton. Actually the four some would like to play with Aurora.

Brampton: A contending junior team, with most of last season's Regents available, also an intermediate club. Something has to be done to whip up interest in hockey this year if the teams are to carry on. Collingwood: Intermediate and junior B or C hockey. Eddie Bush, ex-pro and a native son, fills Jack Portland's shoes as coach (we gave you an exclusive on that three weeks ago). Junior team currently playing baseball will stick together regardless of outside offers. Jim Barrett finished third and Frankie Dance fourth in the Collingwood junior golf meet. Aside from baseball all the lads are ardent golfers in the summer. The hockey clubs have a nice arrangement with the arena: both the clubs and arena split the advertising. Extra expenses come from the gross gate after which the clubs take 60 percent, paying the referees from their cut. A new $1,800 ice scraper has been purchased for the arena.

Aurora: arena manager Tom Dickson announces the new floor will not be installed this fall owing to technical difficulties and that there will be ice available by October 15. Good news indeed. Horace Middleton, who claims to be a netminder of experience from Camp Borden, will be a candidate for the goal job when Aurora Indians take the ice.

Barrie: Happy Emms, now linked with the Boston chain, has signed Lorne Howes, who guarded the twine cottage for St. Mike's last winter. Howes has few superiors in junior hockey and will fill an aching void in the Flyers' set-up. Season tickets available this month and you'd better hurry. Practices started this week in Barrie with a raft of new faces.

September sittings: Aurora midgets sidelined for the season by Bowmanville with 10-9 and 12-10 losses. The Aurora kids tossed both games away through inexperience but have no need to be ashamed. Andy Closs, Parsons, Cook and the rest played smart ball considering everything. Lefty Junkin, veteran southpaw who starred for Sunderland in the tri-county for many seasons, hurled Fenelon Falls to a group win over Lindsay Walkwoods in the eastern tri-county section. Fenelon Falls led by Frankie Stukus of the well known Toronto athletic family. Walkwoods led by Lou Walker, ex-Bradford boy and well known baseball executive. (We forgot to list Lou when referring to that Bradford baseball club of yesteryear recently). Fennel's Corners capture the South Simcoe series with triumphs over Cookstown. A championship for the first time for "The Corners". The boys are teamed up with Cookstown in the Simcoe county cup series and stand a good chance to take it all.

The Stouffville Beavers conquered Little Britain in the first O.B.A. round and await new worlds to conquer. Marian Fox, the Agincourt pitching ace who held Newmarket in check in its series, whiffed 21 batters in one game in the Cobourg series. The club is currently playing Amherstburg. The winner will meet Cooksville. Tommy Anderson, ex-coach of Oshawa Generals and former New York American, has been named as coach of Pittsburgh, replacing Baz Bastien. It's a Toronto Maple Leafs move. Elmvalle recently had the famous king and his court play softball there and had over 3,000 paid admissions to see this great little aggregation in action. Turk Broda and his hockey all-stars were supposed to be the opposition. The game billed to start at 6 sharp (they have no lights) saw the crowd ready but no opposition and light fast waning. The crowd capably filled in. It left a bad taste with many as the aggregation run by Broda has been on the late side and somewhat lack lustre in most appearances this summer.

How about a tournament at Schomberg to include Fennel's, Buttonville, Lansing Tiremen and the Lake Simcoe winners to finally decide the best man in the area? Are you listening, Mr. Lloyd? Thank you for your contributions and assistance on the Wilkie fund. If you haven't given yet see The Era and Express, the Aurora Banner, Ray Fuller at Aurora Bank of Montreal, or "Brick" Heaton at the Aurora Imperial Bank. Response is magnificent, barometer rising, but still much needed in a priority cause. Don't fail.

Zephyr, Mount Albert 4th game to-night

Are the Mounties about to lay down and play dead? Not by the messages being flashed around Mount Albert and vicinity. One down and two to go is the way they're whoping it up. Of course the Zephyr version has an entirely different ring. Blues supporters are calling for their stalwarts, to wrap up the series tonight (Thursday). They'll never have a better chance as the feudin' breaks out again in Zephyr ball yard in the fourth game.

So we have two games to put across to you so to business. The Stan Cook trophy hungry - never have won it - Blues confounded the experts by lopping off game two 10-5. Errors figured prominently in all the scoring as both teams stepped out of character to commit a houseful.

Ken Mitchell in particular must have felt like suing his mates for non-support as the Mounties were tagged with eight miscues in a freakish fielding display. Nor was Ron Kester immune as the Blues kicked in with half as many black marks. The teams traded a pair of unearned runs in the first. The Blues taking command with a three-run assault in the third and applied the final spike to Mount coffin in the fifth as Mounties stepped completely out of character and committed four errors and these combined with hits supplied by Carl Myers and Ron Kester nailed down a five-run innings.

Mounties rushed in the seventh with a rally to muster four runs before Ron Kester finally stalled it. Hard to believe statistics proved Ken Mitchell only knicked for five hits against six allowed by Ron Kester. It was Lorne Rutledge and Kelly Case working overtime with two hits apiece for the Mounties.

The Blues' five hits were bunched with telling effect with Clark Arnold, Ken Pickering, Carl Myers, Ron Kester and Ron Hewlett sharing one each; the latter being an extra base blow a triple. Zephyr outfielding featured with Clark Arnold doing a man-size job of patrolling the pasture to latch onto a trio of well aimed drives.

The Mounties on the spot in game three broke up the ball game with a five-run spree in the sixth to chalk up their first win in the series 10-6. Lorne Rutledge's three-baser with two mates aboard in the sixth provided the main spark to the Mounties' attack. After the Blues opened with a run in the first on a pair of errors the Mounties took over with two in their half as Joe Case walked. Ross Draper followed with a double and Charlie Green laced out the first of four hits his batting average boasted.

The Blues spilled into a temporary 4-2 lead in the third on safeties by Ken Pickering and Ches Lunney. Ken Mitchell brought his crew back to within one of the equalizer by doubling Harold Watts home in the third. Mounties took over a 5-4 margin in the fourth on two errors and hits by Joe Case and Charlie Green supplying the boost. Then the Mounties opened up like we said with a five-run spurt in the sixth to hoist the game out of the doubtful column.

It was a night of blooper hits that had just enough lift to clear the infield. The only solid poke for extra bases was that supplied by Lorne Rutledge and that provided the winning spark. Charlie Green made merry against Ron Kester going four for four in the baseball fanatics language. Joe Case, Ross Draper and Kelly Case were other effective swingers boasting two each. On the other side of the fence, Carl Myers, Ches Lunney and Bill Lockie supported the nine-hit attack with two each.

Elmer Paisley snuck under several hits to feature the outfielding while Ross Draper earned "the plucky award" for staying in behind the plate after stopping one of the hardest foul balls in the midriff we've seen in many a day.

Golfers and bathing girls have the same ambition—to go around in as little as possible.

BANTAMS TAKE SECOND WIN IN FIRST ROUND

A four-run tally in the top half of the seventh enabled Frank Hollingsworth's Optimists bantams to gain a 6-3 win over Richmond Hill in the Hill Tuesday evening. It was the second straight win for our Optimists and they need but another victory to capture the first round O.B.A. playdowns. The third game in the best three out of five set is scheduled for the S.S. diamond tonight.

Our bantams found Tuesday Richmond Hill was going to be tough, much tougher in fact than in the opening game of the series that our lads walked away with 22-1. Fact is they trailed 3-2 down to seventh. After taking a 2-0 lead on Bob Forhan's double in the first they saw it vanish as Lloyd Grainger socked a base circle with a mate aboard in the fourth. That made the seventh innings rally necessary, Grant Morton starting it off with a single, then a pair of walks plus Bill Mair's single turned the tide.

Geo. Kiroff was again the star pitching a masterful two-hitter to lead Newmarket to its win. Our bantams did slightly better in the hit department, collecting four. Bill Mair, Grant Morton, Bob Forhan and Fred Bennitz shared the safeties.

Bradford lacrosse Waits series decision

Bradford lacrosse team and their faithful supporters are still anxiously scanning the horizon for their opposition in the intermediate "C" O.L.A. championship series. One fact they do know is it will be either Alliston or Streetsville.

At present Streetsville hold a 2-1 advantage in games over their Simcoe county rivals in the best four out of seven series. In order to keep interest alive both in Bradford and Maple, later also awaiting opposition in intermediate "B" category, the O.L.A. has arranged a post season exhibition series.

At present Maple are three games up in the series winning the third 12-4 at Maple Tuesday evening. Harold Gwyn, only Newmarketer gracing the Bradford line-up did himself proud with three goals in Tuesday night's game. Bradford, when their final series opens, expect to stage home games on Saturday evenings.

Mount gals win Opener with Sutton

Driving for seven runs in the first frame Mount Albert junior ladies moved into a one game lead in the best three out of five final series for the Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies League title by defeating Sutton 13-9 in Mount Albert Wednesday evening in the series opener.

Once in the lead, Mount Albert was never headed. Evelyn Green and Ruth Simpson headed the Mount Albert hit parade with a trio of safeties. Marguerite Green allowed Sutton nine hits with Mary Jane Sinclair, the Sutton pitcher, lining up three of these to lead her mates at the plate. Ruth Riddell supported her pitcher with three hits in the Sutton cause.

Ida Bertolin was tops in the outfielding duties and Gert Harrison caught a fine game.

Next game in the series says Gladys Rolling, Mount Albert manager, is booked for Sutton Friday.

A pastoral tribe near the Red Sea buried its dead by pelted the body with stones until it was covered.

Junior gals win tropsy At Sutton sports day

Newmarket junior ladies may not be in there fighting for the crown in Lake Simcoe junior ladies' circuit but you wouldn't know it from the results coming in from the Sutton Sports Day Labor Day.

One of main sporting features of the day was the four-team junior ladies' softball tournament conducted among the four teams that make up the junior Simcoe circuit. Believe it or not our junior lassies did nothing better than to win the championship and bring home the trophy. All three games in the tournament were decided by one run as the junior misses put on a good softball display.

In the opening game of the tourney, Newmarket drew its old rival, Mount Albert, and proceeded to nose out a 6-5 win. Keswick gals meantime disposed of Sutton 7-6. In the finals played in the evening Newmarket squeezed home in front of Keswick 10-9 thus winning the trophy. Reg Ball and Geo. Watt were in charge of the team.

Newmarket: B. Watt c, D. Stuffles p, P. Bovair lb, G. Woodhouse 2b, J. Quinn ss, J. McDonald 3b, M. Barker rf, I. Rogers cf, B. Shropshire lf.

Senior girls ousted In Barrie playdowns

Newmarket senior ladies' lease on the Barrie and District softball crown ended abruptly at approximately 8 chimes Wednesday evening at the S.S. diamond. It expired because Barrie Stransmen surprised everyone by blasting out a 12-6 win in the third and deciding game of the semifinals. It wasn't so much their going it was their manner of passing that hurt the most.

Barrie outthit us sure but slightly a 9-8 margin to be exact. Our fielding wasn't one-two with the visitors, still had to carry the search even deeper for the cause of the demise. In the final analysis a look at the walk column clearly told the sad story. Barrie walked out 11 free passes to first with Arlene Moore, who relieved Ann Mulder in the second being charged with nine of these.

Barrie established the pattern early with a two run first and a five-run second frame. Our gals moved back within striking distance in the fifth as they started running bases as of yore and came up within three runs of a tie at 8-5, but tapered off as Mary Osborne was nipped at the plate on an attempted steal. Fact was this spurt raised false hopes as Barrie restarted its scoring in the sixth to bat all the way around for four runs.

Newmarket completed its scoring without benefit of a hit in the seventh as Edith Hare walked four successive batters. Phil McInnis was the main cog in our eight hit attack with two. Hester-Clark took over in the sixth and had Barrie fairly well tamed. It's sad to see the trophy go but indeed it was a Stransmen night.

Champions

By HOWARD MORTON

At the time of writing Mount Albert is two games to one in the final series of the Lake Simcoe Softball league with Zephyr. After being in the same position during the semi-finals with Willow Beach the champions went on to take the series in three straight games.

At the first of the season I wrote that the boys were suffering from hardening of the arteries and general run down condition caused by failure to add new players to this club.

During the year the fellows have been looking at me with a baleful gleam in their eye and, at the final game with Willow Beach, Harold Watts made a point when he remarked that Mount Albert was going to prove how wrong I could be.

Well at the first of the season I didn't think they could win and I'm still of the same opinion. No use changing their luck at this late period of the contest. Tonight they meet Zephyr for the fourth game right in Zephyr and Mount Albert has to win each game. Good games no matter who wins. A win for Zephyr would be real encouragement to a club that has never been the strongest in the league.

Meanwhile Mount Albert girls' team are one game up in their final series with Sutton in a best four out of seven fixture. Good luck girls. Maybe next year you will get the support and consideration you deserve.

In the Whitechurch gun club the competition is getting keener, several straight runs of 25 birds and even one, for George Giggins of Aurora, of 50. The sign at the gate now reads Visitors Welcome so drop in some Sunday afternoon at 1.30 p.m. and enjoy the shooting. The club plans a few real shooting matches for dressed fowl in the near future, rifles and shot-guns. Watch for details.

Just for the record we represent a few champions here at Morton Brothers, Newmarket and Mount Albert. Still a few Pontiacs left for 1950 and Buick will be back in January. Then your everyday champions of service, skill and appreciation are still with us and are going stronger every day. Drop in anytime even if it's only to say good-bye. If you can't drop in wave as you go by. Advertisement, Sept. 6, 1950
